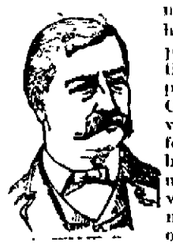
Startling Evidence.

An Important Discovery in the Cronin Murder.

THE WHOLE PLOT REVEALED.

Camp 20 of the Clan-na Gael to Be Thoroughly Investigated by the Grand Jury. State's Attorney Longenecker Claims to Have Evidence Enough to Hang Half a Dozen of Its Members.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Despite his vigorous denials, it is positively known that State's Attorney Longenecker has received important information regarding the plot of which Dr. Cronin was the victim. This information came to him in a letter, unsigned, but which contained many statements outside of the main issue, which convinced the official that it could be relied upon.



JOHN S. BEGGS.

It states in effect that Cronin was tried in February by the inner circle of Camp 20, John F. Beggs presiding; found guilty of being a British spy, and sentenced to death. Instead of calling for volunteer "Removers," lots were drawn, the name of every man present being written on slips of paper. The names of those selected were not made known at the meeting. The only one of the participants who had definite knowledge on this point was the man whose duty it became to notify those upon whom the choice had fallen. This man, according to the letter is John F. Beggs. The states attorney is moving heaven and earth to discover the writer, and is willing to promise him immunity and ample protection if he will come forward.

Detective Palmer had a long interview with Judge Longenecker early in the morning, and about an hour later a flurried-looking man was admitted to the judge's office by the side door. He was a Clan-na-Gael man, and he corroborated the contents of the letter in every detail. Who he is could not be learned, but so satisfactory was the information he gave the judge and so complete the proof of the planning and premeditation of the Cronin murder in Camp 20, that he said an hour later: "I've got evidence enough now to hang half a dozen."

This man further revealed, it is said, that the trial, condemnation and execution of Dr. Cronin was entirely in accordance with the usages of the Clan, as practiced in other cases, notably that of the informer Carey, who was tried by the same process under which Dr. Cronin suffered death.

The grand jury during the afternoon suddenly took up the Cronin case, issued an order for Beggs' appearance. Officers searched for him high and low, but he could not be found. Later the state's attorney went before Judge Shepherd and secured an order directing Postmaster Sexton to produce before the grand jury all applications for money orders or registered letters and all other information which might have a bearing on the murder.

It is said that the police are on the track of some of the individuals that attended the trial, and that Beggs will be arrested if found.

Luke Dillon is quoted as saying that the police have another suspect under surveillance, of whom nothing yet has been said. He is a Californian, has a lucrative business, and enjoys an excellent reputation. This man, who he believes is the original "Simonds," is, he says, the last man in the world that would be suspected of such a crime.

The dispatch from Rome, via London, to the effect that Archbishop Feehan had made a report on the Clan-na-Gael to the vatican is characterized as sheer nonsense by Vicar General Muldoon. The church, he says, does not act as quickly, as is thus indicated.

An afternoon paper says: "Camp 20 Clan-na-Gael and its methods will be thoroughly investigated by the grand jury, and it is more than probable that ten or more of its members will be indicted for the murder of Dr. Cronin. The state's attorney has already in his possession enough evidence to hang at least half that number, and before the grand jury resumes consideration of the Cronin case Wednesday he expects to have a complete chain of evidence encircling the camp, or at least the gentry members of it."

Not Patrick Cooney.

Chief Bubbard has received a dispatch from Frankfort, Ind., stating that the suspect held there was not Patrick Cooney, wanted here by the police.

Securing the Necessary Papers.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The president on his return from Cape May yesterday evening, signed the warrant for the execution of Martin Burke. Owing to some technical requirements, however, the state's messenger, Mr. Baker, was not able to leave with it last night. The warrant will be sent to the state department to-day, and Mr. Baker will leave with it for Chicago at once.

Evidence of an Ocean Disaster.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., June 25.—Among the wreckage coming ashore is a life preserver marked "City of Rome," a bundle of woman's clothing, wine cards of the Haytian Republic and a quantity of wool work. Everything points to a collision between the Victoria and Haytian Republic, but the life preserve, from the City of Rome adds to the mystery.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Russia Gradually Growing Aggressive. Other Cable Dispatches.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 25.—The government is about to issue a new loan for the purpose of building several fortresses and strategic railways.

The Semi-Official Press daily indulges in attacks upon Italy. The czar goes out of his way to snub M. De Marochetti, the Italian ambassador, and misses no opportunity for so doing. At the last state ball he purposely ignored the ambassador's presence, and when the latter placed himself in the czar's way so that it was impossible to avoid him, the czar gave him the coldest possible greeting.

A Royal Wedding.

BERLIN, June 25.—The marriage, civil and religious of Prince Frederick Leopold, of Prussia, to Princess Louise, of Schleswig, sister of the Empress of Germany, was celebrated yesterday with great pomp and splendor. The emperor and empress, and all the royal family witnessed the ceremonies which was officiated by Count Chaplain Kugel. A grand banquet was given at the palace in the evening at which the emperor toasted the bridals. After the banquet there was dancing, and the bride danced with all the royal princes in turn, beginning with the emperor.

Rioters Fined.

PARIS, June 25.—The trial of M.M. Laguerre, Laisant and Deroulede at Angouleme for rioting was finished yesterday. M.M. Laguerre and Deroulede were fined 125 francs, and M. Laisant was acquitted.

A Premiere Seriously Burned.

BERLIN, June 25.—At a gala performance given last night in honor of Prince Leopold's wedding, the Premiere Ballerina's costume caught fire and she was seriously burned.

A Boulanger Conference.

LONDON, June 25.—The adherents of Boulanger have arranged to hold a conference in London next Wednesday, when it is expected some decisive action will be taken.

Ill Health the Cause.

VIENNA, June 25.—The reason assigned for the resignation of Count Andrassy from the Hungarian delegation was his bad state of health.

LYNCHERS AFTER A NEGRO.

He is Surrounded in a Thicket and Cannot Escape.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 25.—A special to The Age-Herald from Gadsden, Ala., says Frank Bennett, a dissolute character, went to the house of John Sims, near Cave Creek yesterday, and threatened to kill the whole family because Mr. Sims had refused to let his 15-year-old daughter marry Bennett. He was driven away and Sims obtained a warrant for his arrest.

Deputy Sheriff Wright and a posse started with four bloodhounds and tracked Bennett to the house of his cousin, Jim Oliver. Bennett refused to surrender, and opened fire, killing three dogs and severely wounding Deputies Wright and Monroe Miller. He then escaped, though fired upon. A strong posse is in pursuit, and at last accounts they had Bennett surrounded in a thicket. A lynching is expected.

More Stars in Our Flag.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Secretary Tracy has ordered that all the flags now in service as ensigns and union jacks on board the ships of the navy and at the navy yards be called in on July 4, and new ones, having forty-two stars on the blue union, issued. All the work is being done in the rigging loft of the navigation building at the Brooklyn navy yard, under the direction of Commander F. M Green. Seventy women, mostly widows and daughters of deceased naval employes, and three men comprise the staff of flag makers, and they are all experts at the work. The women cut, fit and sew the flags, which are made of the best material obtainable, and which is made at Lowell, Mass.

Masonic Temple Dedicated at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, June 25.—The new Masonic temple was formally dedicated with impressive Masonic rites at high noon yesterday. The officers of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania were present and conducted the ceremonies. Yesterday evening a reception and banquet was tendered to the officials of the Grand Lodge in the banqueting hall in the temple. To-day at the same place Crescent Lodge, 736, will be constructed, the Grand Lodge officers officiating.

Afraid of the Gun.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., June 25.—Edward Dillencey, a negro, attempted by means of a ladder early Sunday morning, to enter a house in the suburbs, occupied by the widow Bergen and her two daughters. One of the daughters heard him, and called to an imaginary person to "bring the gun." This frightened the negro, who fled, leaving his hat and shoes. He has since been captured and lodged in jail.

A Brewery Boiler Explodes.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 25.—The boiler in George Renna's brewery exploded shortly before midnight last night, almost totally wrecking the building and instantly killing Engineer Charley Richter and seriously injuring Michael Kelly, Thomas Reynolds and Carl Stalter. Several residences in the vicinity were badly damaged. Mr. Renner's loss is $40,000.

Opportunity for Lynchers.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., June 25.—Thomas Gavan, a young man, demanded money yesterday afternoon of his widowed mother. Upon her refusing to give him any, he beat her about the head with a hammer. He then poured kerosene oil on the floor and set fire to the house. Neighbors managed to rescue the unfortunate woman, who is very badly hurt. Gavan is in custody.

Civil Service Laws.

How They Have Been Violated at Milwaukee.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSION.

Return After a Trip of Investigation of Western Postoffices — The President's Summer Program—Resignations Asked For—Other Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The civil service commission which has been on a tour of investigation among several of the larger postoffices throughout the west, has returned to the city. Among the postoffices investigated was that at Milwaukee, Wis. It was found that the postmaster at that office had repeatedly violated the civil service law.

Commissioner Roosevelt, in speaking of the matter, said that in 1885 the civil service commission gave the postmaster at Milwaukee authority in a special case to draw from the upper eligible list to fill a lower position, and the postmaster had construed that into a continuous authority without any shadow of right, and thought he could take any man from the upper list and then gerrymander the lower lists so as to have that man certified to. In one case he even had the board of examiners to re-mark a paper and mark it down, thereby getting one candidate out of the way of another.

The commission severely condemned this action of Postmaster Paul in the following report, which is signed by all the commissioners: "Having investigated the management of the Milwaukee postoffice in so far as it is affected by the civil service law, we find that during the past four years the postmaster, Mr. G. H. Paul, has repeatedly violated said law, and in many cases has manipulated the lists of eligibles so that the person whom he preferred should be certified to him.

"If Mr. Paul had any considerable portion of his term to serve, we should recommend his immediate removal; but we have determined not to make such recommendation in view of the fact that his term has already expired; that no satisfactory proof has been adduced to show his action in making appointments was due to political considerations, and that his construction of a letter of the commission written in 1885, may partially excuse a portion of his misconduct. The commission therefore, report that Mr. Paul should be, and hereby is, severely censured."

The Excursionists Return.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The party of newspaper publishers and correspondents, 250 in number, who went from Washington, Philadelphia and Baltimore to Cresson Springs last Friday, as the guests of the Pennsylvania railway, returned yesterday evening to their homes. The party was entertained at the Mountain house, taken to Johnstown for a trip of exploration and treated to an experience in the cool mountain air, which was in marked and pleasing contrast with the heat of the cities to which they reluctantly returned. On the return journey the party was given an opportunity to examine in detail the wonderful work which the Pennsylvania railway has done in recuperating from the effects of the fearful disaster which swept away Johnstown.

Resignations Asked For.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Hugh A. Harolson, of Georgia, a brother-in-law of ex-Governor Gordon, deputy sixth auditor treasury department, and Patrick Cunningham, of Ohio; Isaac C. Peetrey, of Ohio; W. E. Dougherty, of Pennsylvania; R. W. Ellis, of Arkansas; T. S. Farrow, of South Carolina; A. S. Howell, of New York; J. M. Leach, Jr., of North Carolina; C. T. Mitchell, of South Carolina, and R. S. Johnston, of Kentucky, chiefs of division in the sixth auditor's office, were yesterday informed by Sixth Auditor Colter that their resignations were desired, and that as soon as these are received their successors would be appointed.

Program of the White House Occupants.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The president returned from Cape May last night. The trip was without incident. The president expects to make another visit to Cape May next Friday and Mrs. Harrison and the McKee children will return with him to the White House a week from last night. Arrangements will be made immediately for the departure of the entire household to Deer Park, where the summer will be spent. The exact date of the departure is not known, but the latter part of next week in all probability. The president expects to spend the Fourth of July at Woodstock, the country home of Henry C. Bower.

Talking for the Indians.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Gabriel Renville, chief of the Sisseton and Wahopepon Indians, had an interview with Acting Indian Commissioner Belt yesterday, in which he urged a settlement of back annuities due the tribe since 1862, amounting to about $250,000. He also urged that the government purchase their surplus land, about 900,000 acres. Mr. Belt favors a commission to ascertain their value.

A Four Days' Trip.

WASHINGTON, June 25. — Secretary Noble has left for New Haven, Conn., to be absent four days. Assistant Secretary Chandler is acting as secretary.

Entirely Too Much Booze.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 25.—C. P. Brown, travelling representative of the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine company, committed suicide yesterday by jumping into the Alabama river. He had been on a spree for two weeks. He was thirty years old and unmarried.

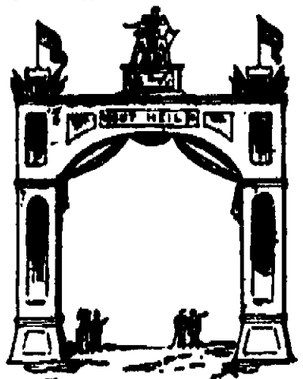
MARCHING TURNERS.

A Big Parade and a Gaily Decorated City.

CINCINNATI, June 25.—To-day is the crowning one to the Turners, who are here in attendance of the twenty-fifth National Turn-Fest. It is the day of the big parade and picnic in Inwood park, where the awarding of prizes will take place.

Vine street is alive with people, and all the house-fronts are bright with flags, bunting and Japanese lanterns. Before a great many houses up town there are big pine trees in tubs, and the branches of the pines were decorated just like Christmas trees. "Gut heil!" is the salutation to be heard everywhere.

The decoration, especially in the German quarters are on a grand and elaborate scale. At the corner of Twelfth and Vine a large arch has been erected across Vine street which presents an imposing appearance.



Up town last night the streets were alive with Turners. There wasn't a street over the Rhine that wasn't bright with light and lively with animated street crowds. The sky was red all the evening with the glow of burning street fires, and rockets hissed into the night from street corners all about. There were tons of fire crackers destroyed, and their noisy bursting could be heard everywhere.

A DOUBLE LYNCHING

Fails to Take Place Only Because Two Brutal Murders Are Well Guarded.

EDGEFIELD, S. C., June 25.—Edgefield is in a high state of excitement. It is known that a party is organized to lynch Whitfield Murrell and William Carpenter, who on Saturday, the 16th inst., while under the influence of liquor, fired five shots from their revolvers into a young man named Preston Youngice, who was peaceably going along the highway near Trenton, in Edgefield county. Youngice died early last Friday morning from the effects of his wounds.

The evidence obtained by the sheriff yesterday was so convincing that the friends of Youngice had determined to lynch Murrell and Carpenter last night, that the Edgefield Rifle company was called out, and stood all day at the jail. Benjamin Booth, who figured conspicuously in the Booth and Loney murder case a few years since, was present with his family, heavily armed with shotguns and pistols to protect Murrell and Carpenter.

It is reported that the Youngice party ascertained last night that the jail was impregnable, and that an attack upon it would result in terrible butchery, and therefore their project was abandoned. Public opinion runs high. The sheriff, being convinced that serious trouble could be averted only by transferring the prisoners to Columbia, left for the capital with them this morning. The excitement has slightly abated since their departure.

YOUNG MAN AFRAID.

Will Not Sign the Treaty, and the Prospects at Pine Ridge are Not Bright.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, Dak., June 25.—There has been a conference at which very few Indians, except those who favor the bill, were present. Nothing of interest transpired, and it is only a fact that will probably draw the lines of separation between the two parties at this agency more distinctly. All efforts to secure the support of Young Man Afraid have thus far failed. Little Wound also remains obstinate, though both profess to be willing that their young men shall act independently.

There is little in the situation encouraging to friends of the bill. Gen. Crook acknowledges that he is unable to account for the change in Young Man Afraid's disposition toward the bill. If, however, secured the same delay that the letter of Mr. Godfrey, who is said to be secretary of the Indian Defense association, was received by the commissioners asking a postponement of the negotiations here until the arrival of ex-Indian Inspector Pollock. The work of the commissioners goes on, and there is no evidence of any weakening of effort on their part. There are 600 signatures to the roll at the present writing.

"Red Nose Mike" Ready to Hang.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 25.—Preparations for the hanging of Michael Rizzalo, alias "Red Nose Mike," are complete. Atkinson, the New York hangman, will act as executioner. The condemned man seems unaffected by the approach of the fatal hour. About 2,000 applications to the sheriff for permission to see the hanging remain unacted upon, the sheriff absenting himself from his office on that account.

Fast and to Forest Fires.

HELENA, Mont., June 25.—Disastrous timber fires are reported west of here on the Northern Pacific railway. The bridge over Clark's Fork, 600 feet long, has been destroyed. The fires cause delay to trains and much damage to property.

Fire Follows Flood.

Thirty Remaining Houses of Johnstown Burned.

THE ENTIRE TOWN THREATENED

Heroic Work on the Part of Firemen, Militia and Citizens to Save the Town. Great Reduction Made in the Working Force—Not Much More Relief Needed.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 25.—It was only due to the direction of the wind that the remains of Johnstone were not entirely wiped out by fire yesterday afternoon. The blaze began at 1 o'clock with the First ward school house, which stood on the bank of Stoney creek. That building stood on the upper side of the dismal waste which the torrent of water swept clear across the town.

Close by the school building, all jumbled up together were about thirty buildings, some of them in a good state of preservation and inhabited. Next to these houses was a street, the only one not yet cleared of debris, and on the opposite side was a wide stretch of ground tightly packed with frame buildings in all manner of decrepit attitudes.

Still further above were some of the best preserved buildings in the city. Had the wind carried the flame in the opposite direction fire would have destroyed what the flood had left. As it was the fire caused a veritable panic in the immediate neighborhood, as it enveloped one house after another in rapid succession. One of the abandoned houses had been a hardware store, and the explosion of a keg of powder in it sent the burning roof flying in fragments thus increasing the danger.

Men were put to work smothering the bonfires that stretched across the open space with earth, and in this manner cut off the fires' line of communication to the threatened buildings, whose occupants were already moving the remnants of their furniture. This banking the bonfires with earth and the veering of the wind so that the burning embers were carried into Stony creek, ended the danger in this direction.

On the other side the fire met no opposition until it had reached the ruin packed street. The militia and a gang of laborers worked hard at clearing the street, and then tore down a number of houses on the opposite side. By this time the streams of water from the fire engines had their effect, and the fire was under control after burning for two hours, and twenty-five or thirty houses were in ashes.

The whole population of the valley turned out to watch the conflagration, and so general became the belief that everything remaining would go up in smoke that in all directions people were loading their effects on wagons preparatory to fleeing to the hills. The money loss will be about $35,000. The fire was caused by three small boys setting fire to a pile of rubbish.

Over Five Hundred Men Discharged.

The discharge of the workmen yesterday evening was consequent upon an order issued last week by Col. Douglass, the chief engineer, and has been productive of the widest discontent among the contractors. Over 500 names were stricken from Contractor McKnight's list of workmen, and many were discharged from the gangs working for other contractors. McKnight immediately left for Pittsburg and brought out the money to pay off his men. All of the discharged men will leave town. It is understood that the reduction of the force is made primarily to get rid of the mischief makers among the men, and that the force will be gradually increased until the contractors have all the help required.

Dr. Lee, of the state board of health, has designated the districts in Cambria City, upon which no buildings can be erected for the present.

A. J. Maxham, general manager of the Johnstown Rail company, gave notice yesterday that after next Saturday the people in his employ will not be on the relief lists. This was paralelled by a notification from the East Conemaugh authorities that their people were in no further need of relief.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company is building a boom below the city to catch the debris floating away from the stone bridge. This wreckage will be hauled out and burned to prevent its floating and lodging against bridges further down the river.

Father Tabaney has decided to build a temporary church pending the rebuilding of a brick building. It is the intention to expedite the restoration of the municipal government as rapidly as the police can be obtained and the local magistrates resume their offices. The presence of so many irresponsible persons in the city is still a warrant for the retention of the military to keep the peace.

An Italian was arrested in the laborers' camp yesterday with a large valise, in which was concealed seven one pound sticks of dynamite. Loose in the valise with the explosives were a quantity of knives, forks, spoons, etc., relics of the flood. A local magistrate fined the fellow $5, and confiscated his valise and contents. The soldiers then chased him out of the camp.

Yesterday evening Clara Barton, of the Red Cross society, asked Gen. Hastings for transportation for twenty-five of the more destitute people, largely females, to Asbury Park, N. J., where Col. Elliott F. Sheppard, of the Mail and Express, has offered to maintain them a month. Gen. Hastings promptly furnished the tickets, and the Red Cross people will send them away this week.

STAMFORD, Conn., June 25.—The residence of John Ockerahausen, the sugar refiner, was burned last night. Loss, $12,000; insured.

DYNAMITE CARTRIDGES.

Ten of the Deadly Missiles Discovered in the Basement of Harvard College.

BOSTON, June 25.—Ten dynamite cartridges have been discovered in the basement of the hospital at Harvard college. They would be sufficient to blow up the whole university. Kerosene had been poured around and over the cartridge and a fuse had been started. The fuse, however, had burned out without producing an explosion. The cartridges were joined together so that had one exploded all would have done so.

The cartridges were about seven or eight inches long and one and one-half inches in diameter. They were placed in an upright position on one of the basement sills and were connected with a common fuse. One of the cartridges, when set off as a test, tore up the ground in a very effective manner. The other nine have been removed by the police and securely locked up. There is no clue to the parties who placed the cartridges in the basement. The work must have been done late Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

Behring Sea Situation.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 25.—It is stated in official circles here yesterday that no action will be taken at present by either the Dominion or British government with regard to protecting the British sealing vessels in Behring sea. The ships of war on the Pacific coast go north on their usual yearly cruise, to which no significance can be attached. The question as to the right of the United States to exclusive jurisdiction in Behring sea will for the present be held in abeyance, as on good authority it is learned that the British government is seeking the co-operation of the several maritime powers of the world with a view to their joining in the dispute of the United States claim and in the reference of the question to arbitration.

Singular and Fatal Accident.

ST. LOUIS, June 25. — William D. Yerby, a young business man, was killed instantly yesterday in a most singular manner. He was a passenger on an Olive street cable train, on which Police Officer Dolan was riding. Dolan jumped quickly from the car to run to a letter box to deposit a letter and his large navy pistol was discharged by falling on the granite pavement, the ball passing through Mr. Yerby's head, causing instant death. The officer went at once to the station and gave himself up.

Asylum Instead of the Prison.

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—Mrs. Wilhelmina Schoop, charged with being accessory to the murder by her husband of Anton Schilling, was arraigned yesterday for trial, but her counsel declaring his belief that she was insane, a jury was empanelled who took evidence on that point and rendered a verdict of insanity, and Judge Wilson thereupon committed the woman to the Norristown insane asylum.

Britishers Still Gambling.

NEWCASTLE, N. Y., June 25.—Negotiations have been pending for some months past for the sale of the Vassar brewery at Poughkeepsie, and it is now learned that a bargain for its transfer to an English syndicate is about to be completed. The brewery has made for its owners half a dozen fortunes.

Preacher Arrested for Embezzlement.

NEW YORK. — Money 2½ per cent. Exchange steady; governments steady.

Currency sixes, 118 bid; four coupons, 123¾ bid; four-and-a-halfs, 106¾ bid.

The stock market this morning opened quiet, and with the exceptions of New England, St. Paul, Wabash Preferred and Chicago gas, there was little trading. There were some wide fluctuations in sugar trust. It opened at 1¼ per cent. higher at 117¾, and shot up rapidly to 120, reacted to 117, and afterward fluctuated around 120. The tone of the general market was firm during the first hour, and prices advanced fractionally, but after 11 o'clock prices fluctuated irregularly, and at noon were but slightly changed in most cases. At this writing the market is extremely dull, but steady.

OBITUARY

FISH—At his late residence near Green Camp, O., June 11th, 1889, Wm. P. Fish, aged 64 years, 1 month and 15 days.

He was the eldest son of Samuel and Hannah Fish, former residents of Marion, and was united to Miss Jane Humphrey on January 6th, 1847. To them were born seven sons, two of whom preceded the father to the grave. Mr. Fish was well known throughout the western portion of this county, and has held several official positions.

The funeral services were held at his late residence on June 13th, and his remains were interred in the Green Camp cemetery.

The bereaved ones desire to return sincere thanks to everyone who in any way aided or comforted them during their deep affliction.

CUMMINS.—Near Agosta, O., June 20th, 1889, little Willie May, youngest daughter of Jacob and Mary Cummins, aged 11 years, 1 month and 20 days.

She was the pride and pet of the household and gave great promise for future usefulness. Her form was laid to rest in the Mt. Olive cemetery, June 21st. Funeral will be preached at the Mt. Olive M. E. church July 7th, at 2 p. m., by the writer, J. A. Sutton.

12th Annual Bee Line Excursion.

At the urgent request of quite a number regular patrons, the Bee Line and Big Four will arrange for one of their popular, personally conducted Excursions to Kansas, Colorado, Salt Lake, Rocky Mountains and Pacific Coast, under the management of the experienced excursion agent, Mr. O. Jay Colliver. In order to accommodate all and give ample time to prepare for a visit to the far west, Tuesday, July 23rd, has been selected as the date leaving Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton, Springfield and Indianapolis. Bee Line agents at each point named, will be provided with full instructions and can give full information regarding rates, routes, etc. Address them or O. Jay Colliver, Bee Line Pass. Ag't. 173 Superior street, Cleveland, O.,

NOTE.—Ask any of our former patrons how the Bee Line takes care of their excursionists.

Unnatural History.

Edith came home from the kindergarten the other day, and said she had got up to the head of the natural history class.

"What was the question?" asked her mother.

"It was this: 'How many paws has a dog?'"

"Well, how did you answer it?"

"I said: 'Three.'"

"Three! And how did you manage to get to the head on that answer?"

"Why, the other children all said 'Two.'"—Youth's Companion.

Fourth of July.

The general excursion arrangement on the C., C., C. and I. railroad for July 4th, 1889, to and from all stations, are as follows: All persons presenting full fare one-way local tickets purchased and dated July 3d or 4th, will be permitted to return on the same, without extra charge, until the 5th inclusive. For full information as to time of trains, etc., call on E. A. Dombaugh, agent, Marion.

Fourth of July Excursion Rates.

On July 3d and 4th, the C. H. V. and T. railway will sell local excursion tickets to all points on its lines at one fare for the round trip; children over 5 and under 12 years of age, one half the adult rate. Tickets good returning until July 5th.

For Sale.

Four lots left in Darfee & Hammer's addition. Also house and lot on Bain avenue. See Bright Darfee, office with Scofield & Scofield. 183w2

PERSONAL GOSSIP

Edgar Saltus, the novelist, will soon get out for Italy.

Von Bulow says a tenor "is not a man; he is an illness."

Sir Julian Pauncefote is an inveterate cigarette smoker.

W. Clark Russell, the novelist, suffers terribly from rheumatism.

The late Sir Thomas Dakin's body was buried in a paper coffin

The Duke of Portland is now considered the luckiest man in England.

Dr. Austin Phelps is at Bar Harbor, rapidly regaining health after a dangerous illness.

Kaid McLean, a Scotchman, is commander-in-chief of the army of the sultan of Morocco.

Professor G. G. Stokes, the president of the Royal Society of England, has been made a baronet.

Jules Ferry, the eminent French statesman, is beat and gray, and has aged ten years in the last two.

Louis Kossuth has so greatly improved in health that it is now thought he may live several years.

M. Taine, whose study of English literature has been little less than profound, does not speak a word of the language.

Mr. Charles Morley, a nephew of Mr. John Morley, is one of the cleverest writers on the staff of The Pall Mall Gazette.

Prince Albert Victor will make a tour in India during the coming winter. The trip will include visits to all the native states.

Secretary Noble finds Washington so pleasant after St. Louis that he is going to stay there this summer, and his wife will stay with him.

E. C. Benedict will pass the summer entertaining on his yacht Edwin Booth and T. B. Aldrich, and possibly Richard Mansfield and Lawrence Barrett.

The late Baron Ignaz Kollsch was ten years ago one of the best chess players in Europe. He was for some years owner of The Vienna Allgemeine Zeitung.

Barrett Wendell, the Boston writer, author of "The Duchess Amelia," is 35 years of age and at present assistant professor of English literature at Harvard.

Sir Conrad Reeves, the chief Justice of Barbadoes, is of slave descent on his mother's side, and is the first mulatto who has received the honor of knighthood.

Arabi Pasha, the Egyptian patriot, complains that his incarceration at Ceylon is killing him. The climate is too damp, and he is tortured with rheumatism.

Theodore Tilton, now a white haired old man, is to be seen every night at a famous chow cafe in Paris. There is talk that he will soon publish a history of the great Beecher-Tilton trial.

Edward Hanlan arrived at San Francisco on the steamer Zealandia, after an absence of nearly three years. He says that his rowing days are over, and that he is going back to Toronto to live.

The shah is everywhere accompanied by a boy of only 5 or 6 years of age, a famous soothsayer of Teheran having told the shah that he will have nothing to fear as long as that little boy is by his side.

When Secretary Tracy, of the navy, was a newspaper man he took up only very weighty themes in politics. He was very exact in his phraseology, and took the utmost care in preparing his manuscripts for the printer.

George Augustus Sala, the journalist, who was the special correspondent of several English newspapers during the centennial in Philadelphia, is reported to have declined an office of knighthood from Queen Victoria.

Capt. Murrell, of the Missouri, has received a piece of plate and a purse of $2,500 from the lord mayor and citizens of London. Each of the steamer's officers received a gold watch and two months' pay and each member of the crew two months' pay.

Mimemitsu Mutsu, Japanese minister to the United States, has rented for the summer a residence at Mount Pleasant, a suburb of Washington. He will entertain his friends there, and there is a prospect that his suburban home will become famous.

John Fiske, the historian, who now turns the scale at 248, was very slender as a youth, and at the time of his marriage had scarcely more than half his present girth. He studied law at Harvard, but did not like the practice of it, and "commenced author."

Dr. James R. Hunter, who died recently in New York, was one of the best known surgeons in the country. He served during the war in the Sixtieth regiment of Indiana volunteers, and was afterward editor of The New York Medical Journal. He was an authority on cancer.

Capt. R. B. Forbes, of Boston, who is now in his 85th year, is engaged compiling accounts of some of the principal shipwrecks of the past fifty years. They will be published in book form, and are designed for the instruction of seamen, who may learn wisdom from the misfortunes of others.

Leonard Swett, who died in Chicago recently, was one of the leading residents of that city. For years he had been a prominent member of the bar. He made the nomination speech of Abraham Lincoln for president in 1860, and performed the same service for Walter Q. Gresham in 1888.

The Earl of Caithness, fifteenth of his title, whose death was announced recently in London, in the 81st year of his age, will be remembered in America as Lord Berriedale. He visited this country some ten years ago with his father, the late earl. Both peers were men of much scholarly attainment.

Mr. John Mayo, of Dooly county, Ga., is a splendid shot. He is an invalid, and sits in the door of his house and shoots lizards from his fences with a rifle. He shoots crows on the wing with a pistol. When he has hogs killed a negro man jumps astride of a hog catches hold of both ears of the animal and turns its head toward Mr. Mayo, who will shoot it in the head with his rifle.

Mr. Evarts is knocking down at one blow one of the most cherished theories of physicians by stating that the reason why he has never been sick a day in his life, and, although a spare man, he is capable day by day of unremitting work, and always able to dine freely in the evening, and afterward to return to his writing table, is that he never takes and never has taken any physical exercise.

Admiral Porter manages to keep two secretaries and his son busy attending to his correspondence, which is very large, and helping him in his literary work. His workshop is a large, airy room, the walls of which are hung with innumerable pictures and relics, while the wainscoting of the room is a series of low shelves filled with books. Here he passes the best part of every day, busily at work.

Doorkeeper Loeffler, of the White House, has a wonderful memory. He was with Stanton at the time of Lincoln's assassination, and during the trials of 1869 was ordered to the White House for the duties he is still performing. His recollection of faces is remarkable. "You called on Mr. Garfield," or "I remember you during the Hayes regime," he will sometimes say to a man whom he had never seen but once, and that years ago

FACTS WORTH KNOWING.

It is stated in the report of the department of mines, New South Wales, that as many as 23,000 diamonds were found in the Inverell district.

The preparatory works for the construction of a canal through the isthmus of Perekop in the Crimea have been completed and the excavations will be commenced shortly.

The work of photographing the stars of the Northern Hemisphere has been commenced at Mount Vincent with the Harvard thirteen inch photographic telescope.

Paper has long been made from wood pulp, but it is now manufactured from the sawdust refuse of mills. When turned and dried it makes an admirable sheathing for houses.

A workingman in a foundry has patented a method of casting pipes without sand molds. In superheated steam or gas jacketed metal molds pipes are cast which are uniform, sound and true, as if turned or bored in a lathe.

A single plate of perforated zinc about a foot square suspended over a gas jet is said to retain the noxious emanations from burning gas, which is known to destroy many articles in a room and to vitiate the atmosphere.

A French scientist has been producing artificial emeralds by fusing silica, alumina and glucina, with traces of oxide of chromium, with acid molybdate of lithia, at a temperature of from 900 degs. to 700 degs. for fifteen days.

The great nitrate fields of Chili are about thirty miles inland from Iquinqui, and that city exports 16,700,000 quintals of this substance. The export of nitrate brings in the handsome sum of $100,000 per month to the custom house.

The total number of animals in the Zoological gardens, London, is stated in the annual report to be 2,250. The annual income of this society is over $100,000. They lost nearly 1,000 animals last year, but the additions by purchase and gifts were 1,121.

The native population of Benares, India, cannot have very advanced ideas as to the importance of sanitation, as 100,000 of them have signed a monster petition to the government protesting against the proposed new drainage and improved water supply.

There has been considerable loss of grouse this year among the preserves of Yorkshire Moors, in England. A land owner attributes the cause to the birds eating the withered tops of the heather in the early spring. These never ripened last year and the birds eating them have caused the epidemic.

The English railways are using the electric light on their trains. The Midland have the dynamo in the rear guard's van, the driving gear being attached to the axle of the front pair of wheels. The light was found to be quite steady and strong. During the stoppages the lights were kept steady by the accumulators.

At a recent exhibition of the phonograph at Paris, M. Gounod, the composer of "Faust," said that if a tune was played and recorded on the cylinder it might be transposed into different keys by turning the cylinder faster or slower. It is stated that this fact was demonstrated by means of a cornet played near the phonograph.

Application has been made for a patent for an electric apparatus by which an instantaneous photograph is taken of a burglar while he is engaged in his nefarious operations. The moment he touches the door of the safe, or any other place to which the tell tale wire may be fastened, a correct photograph is taken.

Mr. B. Piffard states in The Chemical News that a color apparently identical with Indian ink can be produced by the action of sulphuric acid in camphor. After remaining twenty-four hours a gelatinous mass results of a slightly reddish color. This when heated effervesces, giving off fumes of sulphuric acid, and turns intensely black.

An international congress of photography will open in Paris on the 6th of August, the proceedings of which are likely to be of great interest. Any one may attend and suggest subjects for discussion provided the suggestion is sent to the secretary, Mr. M. S. Pector, No. 9 Rue Lincoln, Paris, at least fifteen days before the opening of the congress.

The third of the series of one man photographic exhibitions is now open in London, the object being to bring together in turn representative collections of the work of the best photographic artists. The photographs shown on this occasion are all by Mr. J. Gale and consist of landscapes and hand scapes with figures, and are printed in platinum and in silver processes.

It is not generally known that the young flat fish have an eye on each side of the body, and that it is only in the adult stage that the eyes are both on one side. There has been much discussion among scientific men as to the mode in which the change takes place, but in the flounder it has been observed to travel over the ridge of the head, while in some other fish it passes directly through the soft tissue of the young fish to the other side.

Cellular clothing is now coming into use in England, and is said to be a success. It is woven out of the same material as common cloth, but into coils, the network of which is covered over with a thin stuff. Its porous quality allows the passage of the inside and outside air, giving time for the outside air to become of the same temperature as the body, and thus obviating all danger of catching colds and allowing vapors exhaled by the body to pass off. The ordinary objection to cotton underwear is removed if made in this manner.—New York Herald

ELECTRIC NOTES.

Steam fire engines operated by electricity are suggested.

A novel use of electricity is about to be tested in sharpening the shoes of car horses in icy weather

The number of incandescent lamps installed in Boston this spring has been almost twice what it was last year

The total mileage of submarine cables is stated to be 133,631 miles, of which 10,500 are government property

The oxygen band in the spectrum of the electric light from the Eiffel tower has been found similar to that in the sun's rays.

Wind drives a motor at Cape de la Heve in France which is used for running the dynamo that furnishes electric light to the lighthouse.

The use of carbon brushes is said to be of greatest value on railway motors where speed and current are most subject to violent changes.

The ophone, an instrument for determining the location of the source of sounds for the benefit of navigators, has been successfully experimented with.

At a series of maneuvers between the English Mediterranean fleet and the batteries at Malta to test the efficiency of the electric light it was found that it cannot successfully pierce common smoke.

The electric conduits in Paris are about five feet high, two and a half feet wide and of masonry lined with cement. They contain naked wires, insulated only by porcelain knobs, and are built under each sidewalk parallel with the boulevard.

A Healthy Growth.

Acker's Blood Elixir has gained a firm hold on the American people and is acknowledged to be superior to all other preparation. It is a positive cure for all Blood and Skin Diseases. The medical fraternity indorse and prescribe it. Guaranteed and sold by H. C. Hoberman & Co.

Loose's Red Clover Pills Cure Sick

Headache, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, 25c per Box, 5 Boxes for $1. Sold in Marion, O., by W. B. Foye, Druggist.

By the Treacherous Sea.

They met and loved in the usual way
By the shores of the summer sea.
She a banker's daughter—'twas her own tale—
While a merchant prince was he

And never, each vowed, had a flame like theirs
Sprung up in the human heart.
While the door of joy's future seemed hung with crape
When the time came on to part.

* * * * * * *

Behind the counter she proudly stood
And her eyes took a stony stare
As he asked to be shown some wooden socks
At a quarter or so a pair

Forgetful how tender men's bosoms are,
Her pride said: "Ignore him!" She does!
She cut him as dead as a coffin nail
And he didn't know who she was.
—Philadelphia Times.

The Old, Old Story.

One boy was in knickerbockers and not over 6 years old. The other wore panties about eight inches long and tagged at the knees. They were the center of a group on Main street Saturday morning. Both wore baseball caps. They were captains of baseball nines.

"We walloped yer fair and yer know it," said the 6-year-old.

"Naw yer didn't," was the response of the boy with eight-inch trousers. "Yer've been weak in the box all the season and yer knows it."

That settled it. Even a strong man smiled and passed on.—Lewiston Journal.

Guard Against the Strike.

And always have a bottle of Acker's English Remedy in the house. You cannot tell how soon Croup may strike your little one, or a cold or cough may fasten itself upon you. One dose is a preventive and a few doses a positive cure. All Throat and Lung troubles yield to its treatment. And the Remedy guaranteed by H. C. Hoberman & Co.

—Dr. B. Mincer, the eminent optician of Detroit, Mich., who is now a resident of Marion, will visit every town in this county. Any one suffering with weak eyes, or eyes abused by inferior glasses, should not fail to see him. Orders left at the postoffice will be promptly attended to. No extra charge for examination or visiting patients at their home. On Saturdays and Sundays he can be found in his office at residence, No. 25, Silver street. 164d1y

Happiness and Contentment

Cannot go hand in hand if we look on the dark side of every little obstacle. Nothing will so darken life and make it a burden as Dyspepsia. Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure the worst form of Dyspepsia, Constipation and Indigestion, and make life a happiness and pleasure. Sold at 25 and 50 cents by H. C. Hoberman & Co.

Wanted.

A hat for the head of a fountain,
A glove for the hand of fate,
A shoe for the foot of a mountain,
A link from the chain of debate.

A spoke from the wheel of fortune,
A chip from the "pole" of the south,
A drink from the fountain of knowledge,
A word from the river's mouth

A drink from the cup of sorrow,
A look from the face of the storm,
A stroke from the arm of justice,
A ring for the finger of scorn.

A knock at the door of repentance,
A throb from the ocean's heart,
A glance from the eye of a needle,
From Cupid's bow a dart.

—Boston Gazette.

Why She Jumped the Other Way.

Bessie—You refused Mr. de Tompt! Why, any other girl would jump at an offer from him.

Maud (just graduated)—Oh, I know he's handsome, but I never could marry such an ignorant man. Why, I asked him a few questions about the differentiation in protoplasmic molecular bivalves, and do you know, all he said was, "I suppose so!"—Lawrence American.

Loose's Red Clover Pile Remedy.

is a positive specific for all forms of the disease. Blind, Bleeding, Itching, Ulcerated, and Protruding Piles.—Price 50c.

Sold in Marion, O., by W. B. Foye, Druggist.

A Child Killer.

Another child killed by the use of opiates given in the form of Soothing syrup. Why mothers give their children such deadly poison is surprising when they can relieve the child of its peculiar troubles by using Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no Opium or Morphine. Sold by H. C. Hoberman & Co.

A Coal Dealer's Humor.

One occasionally finds gleams of humor in the business methods of those who minister to the public needs among the coal yards and lumber piles of the city. On one side of his inclosure, where vast heaps of coal and towering ranks of heavy lumber are exposed to the sight of every passer by, a down town dealer has displayed the legend, in big black letters, "Walk in; no trouble to show goods."—Philadelphia Press.

Mr. Jonah and W.

The whale that swallowed Jonah
Had to throw him up at once,
And it hadn't more than downed him
Till it saw it was a dunce.

For all the whale's companions
In a stormy chorus roared,
It would go straight to the bottom
When a Jonah was on board.

—Washington Critic.

A Duty to Yourself.

It is surprising that people will use a common ordinary pill when they can secure a valuable English one for the same money. Dr. Acker's English pills are a positive cure for sick-headache and all liver troubles. They are small, sweet, easily taken and do not gripe. Sold by H. C. Hoberman & Co.

"DIRT rots the fibre and invites the moth." To cleanse and purify blankets thoroughly, wash them with IVORY SOAP. Professor Cornwall, of Princeton College, says the IVORY SOAP is an excellent Laundry Soap, of great purity and more than average cleansing power.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

MONUMENT TO GALLAUDET

BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTE TO THE FOUNDER OF SCHOOLS FOR DEAF MUTES.

Poem by Mrs. Laura C. Fearing, a Deaf Mute—Gallaudet's Grandchildren Take Part—Some Facts About His Great Work. 40,000 Deaf Mutes in the United States.

[Special Correspondence.]

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Day after to-morrow a queer scene will be witnessed on the lawn in front of the beautiful chapel at Kendall Green. Then and there will be unveiled a striking statue of the late Rev. Thomas H. Gallaudet, founder of deaf mute education in this country. Gathered on that lawn, within the seclusion of the finest deaf mute educational institution in the world, a noble college founded and molded by the great Gallaudet's worthy son, will be found 400 deaf mutes, members of the national deaf mute convention, which meets in this city June 26 to 29.

THE GALLAUDET MONUMENT.

It was this convention that raised the funds for this fitting memorial structure. At its last meeting in New York four years ago it was resolved to erect the statue, and the deaf mutes of the country were called upon for contributions. Professor Draper, of the college, treasurer of the fund, says the $13,000 expended has come in small sums, every state and territory in the United States being represented. Only a few days ago a handsome contribution came all the way from Sitka, Alaska.

To this band of silent but earnest persons the music of the famous Marine band will be but a mockery. But the poem by Mrs. Laura C. Fearing (a deaf mute) and the various addresses will all be made to reach their consciousness by means of the laborious but blessed sign manual. These will be music enough for the band of deaf mutes, for almost without exception they are persons of culture—culture which has lightened their lives and filled them with love and gratitude for the great teacher. If their ears hear not their eyes will be delighted by the unveiling of the memorial at the hands of Master Herbert Draper Gallaudet and Miss Marion Wallace Gallaudet, grandchildren of the educator, while the address of acceptance is to be made by Edward M. Gallaudet, the great Gallaudet's son.

When the canvas falls away the happiest persons there will not be able to join in the shouts of approval, but their hearts will be full to overflowing when they gaze upon the handsome and effective marble, an admirable portrait of Gallaudet with his first pupil, 11 years old Alice Cogswell, standing by his side. That winter of 1816-17, in which Dr. Gallaudet, then 30 years old, and but recently graduated from Andover, devoted much of his time to experimental teaching of the little daughter of his friend Dr. Cogswell, of Hartford, Conn., was the beginning of a new era for the deaf mutes of the world.

It was not long before little Alice had learned several simple words and phrases, and as this small bit of light shone so brightly, Dr. Gallaudet resolved to devote his life to the work of educating those who could neither hear nor speak. He visited Europe, took lessons from the good Abbe Sicard, and then returned and opened a school in Hartford. The hundreds of educated deaf mutes who are to gather about this marble memorial form the best illustration of the growth of that great idea. Many of them are college graduates, and of the 40,000 deaf mutes in the United States four-fifths are educated.

In this country there are now seventy schools for education of deaf mutes, accommodating each year more than 8,000 pupils. In the chapel of the college, not a hundred feet from the Gallaudet statue, hangs a memorial tablet erected by the students to Edward Stretch, who died in 1874, a few days after writing his sister:

> It will take away half the bitterness of death to have been allowed to learn something.

If one young man could thus write, what is the sum of happiness brought to thousands upon thousands who have "learned something" through the instrumentality of Gallaudet's labors?

"There are many persons who know little of the progress that has been made in the education of deaf mutes," said Professor Draper, who is classed as a deaf mute, though he has learned to articulate so plainly that he easily carries on his part of the conversation. "Hundreds of persons supposed to be dumb are each year learning to speak, while the development of methods of teaching has brought all the avenues of general culture within reach of the non-hearing and non-speaking.

HISTORIC HOME OF AMOS KENDALL.

"Of late years there has been such a general recognition of the possibilities in the direction of speaking that leading educators and persons of influence in the deaf mute world now do everything in their power to discourage the use of the word dumb. Many of the public institutions are still called deaf and dumb institutes, but I do not know of a single private school which uses that word in its title, or in any other way gives sanction to the old idea that all persons who are mute are dumb. There is a radical difference between the two, as is now being daily discovered.

"A common practice in modern schools is to try all so called deaf and dumb pupils in the articulation classes, retaining there only such as receive benefit from the training. Many pupils can make no progress at all, while many others develop with amazing rapidity. In the United States nearly 3,500 deaf mutes, or persons supposed to be deaf and dumb, are taking daily lessons in articulation and speech reading. Not a few of these have some little hearing, and this is also developed. There are 230 articulation teachers in the schools of this country, and it is a fact, not generally known, that deaf mute education in America is far ahead of any other country in the world.

"A great step forward in the education of deaf mutes," continued Professor Draper, "was made when this national college for deaf mutes was organized by Dr. Edward M. Gallaudet, son of the Rev. Thomas H. Gallaudet, twenty-five years ago. To this day it is the only deaf mute college in the world, all the other institutions being primary schools. The experience of a quarter of a century in the progress of this college has fully demonstrated the ability of deaf mutes to master the arts and sciences. More than 300 young men have matriculated here, the degree of bachelor of arts has been conferred on seventy-five graduates, of bachelor of science on eight, of bachelor of philosophy on six, and master of arts and sciences on ten.

"This college has quickened and purified all the currents of thought and endeavor in the deaf world. More than half a hundred of our graduates have engaged in teaching; one has entered the ministry; four have become editors and publishers of newspapers; twelve have entered the civil service of the government; two have become accomplished architects; one has been repeatedly elected recorder of deeds in a southern city; one has become eminent as a practical chemist and assayer; two have become professors in the faculty of the college; some have gone into mercantile and other offices; some have undertaken business on their own account, while not a few have chosen agricultural and mechanical pursuits, in which the advantages of thorough mental training will give them a superiority over those not so well equipped. Indeed, deaf mute education has made such progress that the world is learning to look upon all deaf mutes as men and women of culture—culture which does them infinite credit, because acquired in the face of natural difficulties apparently insurmountable.

"Scores of graduates of this college are now in the midst of careers of great usefulness and success, though the world hears little of them. A few have gained something akin to renown. Mr. J. E. Parkinson, a graduate, is one of the most successful lawyers of Chicago, his earnings being $15,000 a year. Mr. James H. Logan, of Pittsburg, is known to men of science the world over on account of his services as a microscopist to the United States coast and geodetic survey.

"That deaf mutes can successfully manage almost any sort of business is shown in the case of Mr. W. M. Allman, of Sturgis, Mich. He has served as city treasurer in his town, and is now cashier of a national bank there. We have among our students the sons of three millionaires. One is a son of the Mr. Saunders, of Boston, who furnished Graham Bell with the capital for developing the telephone, and that at a time when Bell was ready and the telephone almost a myth. The other two are sons of Senator Washburne, of Minnesota, and Millionaire Stafford, of Milwaukee."

Kendall Green is one of the most beautiful spots in this city of beauties. It comprises 100 acres about one mile northeast of the Capitol, lying along a gentle declivity overlooking the city and the Potomac. The buildings are spacious and magnificent, and are surrounded by a half dozen pretty residences, occupied by members of the faculty. The Columbia Institution for Deaf Mutes is a school open to children of the District of Columbia and of army and navy officers, while the National college's classic courses are open to the world.

Kendall Green takes its name from Amos Kendall, whose gift of land founded the institution which subsequently passed under government control. Amos Kendall was postmaster general under Andrew Jackson, and his fine old country seat still stands within the grounds. Nowhere grows the grass greener than on Kendall Green, and no man's memory is kept greener in the hearts of a class of people who have drawn benefit from the labors of genius than the memory of Rev. Thomas H. Gallaudet.

ROBERT GRAVES.

How They Make Thimbles.

The way thimbles are made in England and in this country is simple enough. Dies of the different sizes are used, into which the metal, whether gold, silver or steel, is pressed. The hole punching, finishing, polishing and tempering are done afterward. Celluloid and rubber are molded. The best thimbles are made in France, where the process is more thorough. Strange as it may seem, the French consider durability in their gold thimbles as the first requisite.

The first step in the making of a Paris gold thimble is the cutting into a disk of the desired size a thin piece of sheet iron. This is brought to a red heat, placed over a graduated hole in an iron bench and hammered down into it with a punch. This hole is the form of the thimble.

The iron takes its shape and is removed from the hole. The little indentations to keep the needle from slipping are made in it and all the other finishing strokes of the perfect thimble put on it. The iron is then made into steel by a process peculiar to the French thimble maker, and is tempered, polished and brought to a deep blue color. A thin sheet of gold is then pressed into the interior of the thimble and fastened there by a mandrill. Gold leaf is attached to the outside by great pressure, the edges of the leaf being fitted in and held by small grooves at the base of the thimble. The article is then ready for use. The gold will last for years. The steel never wears out and the gold can be readily replaced at any time. Nowhere else in the world are gold thimbles made in that way.—Chambers' Journal.

Sixty years ago the London Times used to give leader writers even better pay than it does now. Barnes, the editor at that time, gave $1,250 for a set of twelve leaders. In 1825 he sent the poet, Tom Moore, $500 for a single

LONG LIFE

There is nothing in the world more generally desired than long life, yet the majority of people put off caring for their health—not because they are really careless, but because we live our lives at such a pace we have not time to give the subject sufficient thought until we receive a reminder in the shape of a severe illness.

Then, too, we are constantly bewildered by the various schools of medicine, and the physicians who represent them, and often blunder in our choice of a doctor.

If people only knew that the very best health-keeper, life-preserver, and disease-preventer that has yet been discovered, is simmered down into a concentrated and very palatable form in the shape of New Style Pleasant Taste Vinegar Bitters, they would not hesitate a moment to try it.

But they do not know. How can they know, when so many not only worthless, but positively injurious drugs are constantly flooding the market under various names guises, that the New Style Vinegar Bitters is as bad as any of them?

They do not know, of course, unless they have the courage to try the New Style. It straightens out a tangled-up system in a very short while, and those who buy it once buy it always.

Why don't you try it, reader? It is sent out by a responsible house, and is exactly as represented. It costs but a dollar for a very large bottle. Try it once and you will never be so glad of anything in your life. Your druggist may not have it, but he will order it for you. Be sure it says New Style Pleasant Taste on carton and bottle before you take it. Try it, and you will feel happier than if you had found a gold mine, for it really is a mine—of health.

—On July 3d and 4th, the Chicago and Atlantic railway will sell excursion tickets at one full fare for the round trip. Tickets good returning up to and including July 5th, account of Fourth of July.

—On July 3d an 4th the N. Y., L. E. and W. railway will sell excursion tickets at one fare for the round trip, tickets good going only on day of sale and returning not later than July 5th, 1889, on account of the Fourth of July.

—To those who desire to attend the races at Lima, O., the Chicago and Atlantic railroad will sell excursion tickets on June 25th, 26th, 27th and 28th. Tickets good to return up to and including June 29th. Fare for the round trip $2.10.

—A benefit performance is to be given at Music Hall tonight for the "Thompson sufferers"—the stranded showmen. The Marion band will furnish music and Messrs. Deigle and Lawson, local sawdust artists, will appear with entire Thompson company.

—Wood County Democrat: A constable who went to seize a Fostoria widow's sewing machine was seized by the hair, his false teeth shaken out and was then pitched down a stairway and so used up that he had to retire in an ambulance. The Goddess of Liberty wasn't stamped on our coins simply as an ornament.

—Hon. B. G. Young, Cols. Jas. Jacoby and William H. Eckhart, J. B. Fisher, Bart Tristram, Sidney Young and Gen't Roger Mugee, left on a fishing excursion down the Whetstone today. They were amply supplied with bait of all kinds and expected to lure a large string of the finny tribe onto their hooks.

—The Press: North Baltimore ladies are such inveterate gum chewers that a local minister stopped in the middle of his sermon to request them to let up at least in church. Reproof wasn't of any avail so the next Sunday the parson put a big hunk of gum in his own mouth and started in on his sermon. Can't find a gum chewer in the church.

—A horse belonging to Tim Kelly indulged in a lively runaway down West street today. As the animal was being unhitched, at the stable near his residence, it became frightened and after breaking loose, with the shafts of the wagon to which it was attached, started down West street and was captured near the City Hall. A bad cut in one of the horse's hind legs and a broken wagon was the amount of damage done.

—Mrs. Rachael Foster, who has been an invalid for some years, met with an accident this morning at her home on south West street, by which she suffers a broken arm. While milking she slipped and fell and her arm was caught in such a manner as to break it. Dr. Thomas was called and attended her injuries, and she is reported as doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances. She is now aged 66 years which makes her recovery doubtful.

—Huntington Herald: Investigations showed conclusively that the wreck at Simpson yesterday was the cause of some dastard who had slipped off the two bolts from the switch-rod, disconnecting the target with the rail, so that it did not interfere with the target signal that was all right. The purpose seems to have been to ditch the passenger train No. 12, which would have been due shortly after the fated 82 passed. Some enemy of the company is evidently responsible for the great damage done. A temporary track is used allowing trains to pass.

—The North End is enjoying a little sensation. Some of the neighbors have begun telling things about each other which occurred where they lived prior to coming to Marion, and the last shot was made by a gentleman who seems to have touched a tender spot. As a consequence the injured woman and her chief chum are up in arms, and were marching for an hour or more Monday evening, with large whips, looking for their victim. The object of their hate didn't happen to present himself for punishment and the threatening storm cloud blew over temporarily, but the North End people are on the tip toe of excitement and will anticipate a good cowhiding for the next week.

—J. M. Wagstaff, of the N. Y., P. and O. office of this city, and Joe Wall, of the N. Y., P. and O. at Richwood, returned home from Cleveland Monday morning, where they had been in attendance as delegates from the fourth division of the N. Y., P. and O. and Dayton division of the O. R. T., at a meeting consisting of 350 delegates from the Order of Railroad Telegraphers throughout the country. They report a very interesting meeting as being held and one which no doubt will do the order much good. A number of the delegates returning to their homes stopped off in this city and were guests at Hotel Marion, Monday. Among these were A. D. Thurston, grand chief telegrapher, of Vinton, Iowa, who is the founder of the order; E. S. Toby and wife, of Osego, Wis.; S. A. Wagner, editor of the Weekly Telegrapher, and S. O. Fox, of Vinton, Iowa; C. B. Hawley, of Chicago; P. W. McAllister, of Minneapolis, and J. A. Gardner and wife, of St. Paul.

Golden Wedding.

The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Salter was, on Wednesday evening, the scene of unusual social enjoyment and good cheer, it being the occasion of their fiftieth wedding anniversary. The hours for receiving were from 6 to 10 o'clock, and about 150 of their friends offered greetings and congratulations.

The "bride" wore black silk with dainty trimmings of lace and lavender ribbons, and blushed becomingly over the many compliments she received. The presents were elegant and varied, and among them we noticed a very fine pair of diamond ear drops and other jewelry, and a very handsome cane appropriately engraved was the gift of Marion friends to Mr. Salter. There were also silk, golden tipped umbrellas sufficient in number to protect this worthy couple from the rough blasts and storms of another half century, and canes to support them in safety down the remainder of life's journey, the first part of which has been made beautiful by the mutual support they have given each other.

Elegant refreshments were served during the evening, presided over by the charming granddaughters of the household. Many guests were present from abroad, among them Mr. and Mrs. Warren Salter, of Kansas City, Mo.

At a late hour the last guests departed, wishing their estimable host and hostess many years of wedded happiness.

Marion Light Guards.

The Marion Light Guards met at the City Hall Monday night and elected their corps of officers as follows:

Geo. B. Scofield, president; J. L. Elliott, vice president; Otto Blalch, secretary; M. A. Turney, treasurer; V. E. Dombaugh, captain; H. N. Love, first lieutenant; George Uhler, second lieutenant; Phil Buehrmund, first sergeant; H. B. Hane, second sergeant; J. S. Duff, third sergeant; C. B. Kling, fourth sergeant; R. M. Shute, color sergeant; Wright Wallace, first corporal; W. S. Frash, second corporal; T. H. Holder, third corporal; V. H. Kling, fourth corporal; Henry Strelitz, Richard Fahey, J. S. Duff, trustees.

Teachers' Institute.

The next regular annual session of the Marion County Teachers' Institute will begin at City Hall, Marion, on Monday morning, August 5, and continue during that week.

Among the instructors secured are Prof. Darst, of Ada, and Dr. W. S. Eversole, of Wooster, the latter having organized the first institute ever held in the county. Instruction in the various branches will be given during the day, and appropriate lectures every evening.

Wearing Flannel Shirts.

[Lima Republican.]

A couple of summers or more ago, some of the younger men of this city began wearing flannel shirts during the hot weather, just as a fad. This summer it is no longer a fad but is recognized as a hygienic principle, and everybody, nearly, sports a flannel shirt during the hot weather. These come in all kinds of colors, and some seen on the streets are very pretty. The reasons assigned for their use are various, but all tend in one direction. A well known physician says they are cooler than linen, and are not so unhealthful. They maintain and preserve the normal heat of the body better than silk or linen, or anything else, and this normal heat is a very important factor in healthfulness. A good deal has been written about the picturesqueness of the flannel shirt, and opinions differ very materially. But from a very purely scientific standpoint, all authorities agree that flannel is the most healthful article that can be worn next the skin. So what started as a mere fad has become productive of great good.

Marion County Personal Property.

The abstract of the assessors' returns of personal property shows the total in Marion county to be returned at $3,638,267, an increase over the previous year of $140,063.

Classified, the various sums, omitting a few minor ones, are as follows: 8022 horses—$621,230; 15,520 cattle—$280,075; 221 mules—$14,630; 67,665 sheep—$158,112; 25,362 hogs—$107,917; 1746 carriages—$52,620; no special class—$320,952; merchants' stocks—$282,195; manufacturers' stock—$142,261; moneys—$244,831; credits above debts—$1,112,723.

There are 1958 dogs returned, 43 more than were returned last year.

Tourists.

Whether on pleasure bent or business, should take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectually on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, headaches and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50c and $1.00 bottles by all leading druggists.
